Program

Living Our Mission: Our Journey in Working to Create Educational Equity in Champaign Unit 4

As our country begins to collectively talk and problem-solve around issues of racial injustice in public schools, board members are learning how they can transform their districts' schools into anti-racist spaces of high quality learning and equity.

Champaign CUSD 4 Board Members Dr. Gianina Baker and Elizabeth Sotiropoulos, along with Superintendent Dr. Susan Zola, will share highlights of their district antiracism and equity work over the past two years. This engaging and interactive workshop will present model district processes used to have courageous conversations around racial injustice and inequity.

Attendees should expect to be challenged, yet supported, with the content in this session. Expected session outcomes entail moving from conversation to basic action plan development, with the intent of providing next steps toward achieving greater racial justice within districts.

A question-answer period will follow the featured presentation (as time permits).
